

Outline Ideas:

Mr. AZ Times should definitely be included in our production. He reveals the past of any object or person. He is an extra set of eyes that examines the story visually as the audience does the same. He breaks-down the distance between the performance and the way it looks from the audience and gives power to the viewer by examining the past.

I would love to include recorded voices of participants of our project and current audience members from the lobby before the show to be incorporated with the opening song or ending piece.

Using shadow puppets to tell the creation stories.

Boris Boganovich- as an unsung hero.
